The artist who is in search of attitudes descriptive of suffering, need not go to the Christian martyrs of old. If he could only see through the walls into the thousands of homes all over this land he would see women undergoing tortures in silence without complaining, before which the brief ordeals of the martyrs pale into nothingness.

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women because of disorders and derangement of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. One of the worst effects of troubles of this kind is upon the nervous system. The tortures so bravely endured completely and effectually shatter the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It makes it strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It checks exhausting drains and tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

Madam's Great Bargain.

It was in an auction store on Main street, just before the auctioneer mounted the box. Goods were being sold privately to those who desired to buy. A well dressed woman was examining a bit of jewelry.

"What is the price of this?" she asked.

"That will cost you $4, madam," replied the salesman.

"Can't you shade that figure a bit?"

"No; can't possibly take a cent less. But I'll tell you what I'll do—if you will wait a few moments the auction sale will be started, and I'll place the article under the hammer. You may then be able to buy it in for almost nothing."

Joseph Jefferson.

Joseph Jefferson was playing a one night engagement in a small town, appearing in the part Rip Van Winkle, which he has so often and ably impersonated. At the hotel where he staid there was an Irishman who acted as general assistant. Judged by the great interest he manifested in the hotel, he might have been taken to be the proprietor. At about a quarter to 6 in the morning Mr. Jefferson was startled, not to say alarmed, by a violent thumping on his door. When he recollected that he had left no orders to be called so early, he was naturally indignant. His sleep was banished for that morning, however, so he arose and soon made his appearance before the clerk.

"Look here, I say," he demanded of this functionary, "why was I called at this unearthly hour?"

"I don't know, sir," replied the clerk, "but I'll ask Pat." Pat was summoned. Said the clerk: "Pat, there was no call for this gentleman. Why did you waken him?"

Pat led the clerk to one side and said in a mysterious whisper: "He wor snorin' like a horse, sor, an Oi'd heard the boys sayin' somethin' about how he wor wanst afther shlapin' for twenty years, so Oi says to meself, 'It's a-comin' unto 'im ag'in, an it's yer juty to git the crayther out o' yer house at wanst.'"

Snowball Showers.

More than one explorer in cold climates has noted the curious phenomenon of a "snowball shower." The balls, it is true, are not very big, the average being about the size of a hen's egg, but they are true snowballs for all that, compressed globes of snow, not little lumps of ice or hail.

A fall of the kind occurred in north London in March, 1859, and at the time it was observed that the balls seemed five times as dense and compressed as ordinary snow and in no way to be told from the usual handmade missiles. They had fallen during the night and were strewn many layers thick over a very large area.

No cause—except a doubtful electrical one—can be ascribed for the strange phenomenon, and mountaineers are apt to discredit the stories of snowball showers told them by the old guides till suddenly in the midst of an ordinary storm they find themselves assailed as though by myriads of mischievous schoolboys.—London Standard.

The tallest shaft or pillar in London or the neighborhood is the London monument, which is only 202 feet high.

Our Florida Alligator.

An alligator is not an attractive creature. He has not a single virtue that can be named. He is cowardly, treacherous, hideous. He is neither graceful nor even respectable in appearance. He is not even amusing or grotesque in his ugliness, for as a brute—a brute unqualified—he is always so intensely real that one shrinks from him with loathing and a laugh at his expense while in his presence would seem curiously out of place.

His personality, too, is strong. Once catch the steadfast gaze of a free, adult alligator's wicked eyes, with their odd vertical pupils fixed full upon your own, and the significance of the expression "evil eye," and the mysteries of snake charming, hypnotism and hoodooism will be readily understood, for his brutish, merciless, unflinching stare is simply blood chilling.—L. W. Blake in Popular Science Monthly.

Plasters and Cuts.

Although court plaster is useful in protecting small scratches or abrasions of the skin from harm, it should not be used over any considerable cut or wound in process of healing. These will heal much faster if simply covered with a bit of soft linen held in place at the ends with strips of surgeon's plaster.

No Liking For Angels.

A little girl whose mother left her alone at night after telling her the room was full of angels was heard saying to her doll: "Now, dollie, you musn't be afraid. The room is all full of angels. It beats the devil how afraid I am of angels."—Trained Motherhood.

Naturally.

"And you say you ate horse steak in Paris? How was it served?"

"A la cart, of course."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Egyptian Burials.

It has hitherto been supposed that in Egypt the practice of embalming the bodies of the dead and forming them into mummies was the most ancient method of sepulture, but Professor Flinders Petrie, the well known Egyptologist, has by recent excavations thrown quite a new light upon this question of the ancient method of disposing of the dead. At Deshasheh, a place about 50 miles south of Cairo, he has discovered a series of tombs, in the coffins of which he has found complete skeletons from which the flesh has been carefully dissected, evidently previous to burial. The coffins are of admirable workmanship, are made of sycamore and are in perfect preservation notwithstanding their 5,000 years' burial in the sand. It remains to be proved by further excavations whether the mutilation of the bodies was performed as a ceremonial rite or whether this removal of flesh from the bones points to cannibalism on the part of the ancient people.—Chambers' Journal.

The Best of Proof.

"And you say you gave me no encouragement?"

"That is what I said."

"No encouragement? Why even your father thought it all settled."

"My father? What proof have you of your extraordinary statement?"

"Proof? The best of proof. He borrows money from me."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

LIABLE TO PROVE MISLEADING.

The Golconda News publishes an excellent article upon the benefits the western country would derive from a national system of irrigation. While agreeing with the News in all it says in that connection, the JOURNAL questions the wisdom of the commencing paragraph, which says:

"To those who have followed the trend of national legislation the question arises whether the entire west has not made a mistake in demanding of their representatives and Senators such a fierce allegiance to the silver cause, which has demanded all their time and attention and energy to the exclusion of other topics and subjects."

Such expression is liable to prove misleading, and to furnish eastern gold men a handle for an argument that the silver cause is waning, and that even in the State of Nevada the people's interest in bimetalism is slackening, which is as remote from the truth as is the north star from the southern cross. The JOURNAL has followed pretty carefully the "trend of national legislation," and it has failed to notice any evidence that other interests of the west have suffered because of the western Senators' and Representatives' "fierce allegiance to the silver cause."

So far as our observation has extended, the western Congressmen have not neglected any other local interest on account of the silver cause, which has not demanded all their time and attention to the exclusion of other topics and subjects. Nevada's Senators profess to be the most radical of radical bimetalists, but they appear to have found plenty of time to attend to the manifold interests of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, while those from other silver producing States take as active a part in general legislation, and as intelligently, as the average eastern Senator or Representative.

We still hold to the belief that the silver cause is the paramount one, and that, until it is disposed of, it should take the lead and secure the first consideration from its Congressional friends from all parts of the country. We endorse all that the News says of the importance of the irrigation question and the justice of its demand that it be made a part of our national system of internal improvements. But, besides being second in importance to the financial issue, it is more remote from consumption, and no concession should be made in that direction at the expense of the silver cause. Besides, it is more than probable that the question of bi or monometallism will be settled for all time at the next Presidential election, while nothing substantial can be expected to be accomplished in the meantime upon the proposition so earnestly and ably advocated by our Golconda contemporary.

Let us settle the main question first, then the other will follow as a natural sequence and with greatly increased chances, because of the greater importance of the west in the matter of wealth and population, resulting from the wholesome change in the currency system of the nation.

THE Twinkler complains that the JOURNAL misrepresents it when it says it argues that Nevada is better off under a gold standard than it would be with free silver. If any person can read our neighbor's panegyrics on a single metallic standard and its sneers and depreciation of a double, such person must certainly discern something between the lines which fails to reach the ordinary vision if he does not arrive at the JOURNAL's conclusion as to their import and meaning. The Twinkler claims to advocate Nevada's interests, and, in fact, sometimes intimates that it is the only paper in the State that does. If it believes that free silver would be beneficial to Nevada why does it preach the doctrine of monometallism? If our assertion is untrue we are forced to the distasteful inference that our heretofore esteemed contemporary is willfully false to the interest of the State.

THE Reno Gazette says "McKinley Republicans ask nothing easier than to have William J. Bryan nominated next year on a free-trade-silver platform. These patent methods for making men rich have been tried every little while and have again been exposed in the last two years."

This is the first time we have ever seen it stated that the government should be run to make men rich. We will admit that the McKinley rule will make a few men rich—outrageously rich—but it is making millions poor. The object of no government should be to make men rich. Bryan would have prosperous times for all, and such a government would prevent anyone from becoming enormously wealthy. But the words of the Gazette are a dead giveaway to the administration of today—it is to make men rich.—Lyon County Times.

ALGER will probably be removed from the Cabinet. President McKinley, after giving him for many months the "moral" and administrative support, has come to the conclusion that the army appropriation bill will not pass during this session of Congress unless Alger is removed. The retirement of the present dishonest and inefficient Secretary of War reflects more credit upon Congress than President McKinley. It was a "forced put" with the latter.

A GENTLEMAN was heard to remark yesterday that the only qualification that most of the members of the Nevada Legislature had, was their ability to sign the pay roll and vote with the majority.—Reveille.

Of course they vote with the majority. It is that kind of cattle that compose Mr. Wallace's majority.

Bring It Along.

This letter was received a few days ago by one of Reno's prominent citizens:

HANFORD, Cal., Feb. 15, 1899.

DEAR SIR: Your address was given me by a barber who used to live in Reno. He stated that you could give me the information I wished in regard to the State laws of Nevada. I have organized a regular bull fight show, which is strictly first class, giving all the high grade feats of the Mexican or Spanish bull fighters, excepting that I shall not allow them to kill the bull or to hurt him more than if cut by a barbed wire fence. All brutality will be left out. The troupe will consist of four men and two women, all of whom are excellent bullfighters and of great reputation in their own country. Now I wish to know if there is a State law prohibiting such an exhibit, or is there a humane society in your State that would cause trouble? You will do me a great favor if you can manage things so I will meet no trouble on my arrival. I am, yours respectfully,

O. S. CUNNINGHAM,

Hanford, Cal.

Bring your bull fight show right along, Mr. Cunningham. If there is a law to prohibit the display, it was passed while our legislators were engrossed in advocating the prize fight law. As the State Legislature is now in session lay the matter before them and the law will be repealed at once. Hurrah for Nevada, the paradise for bull and prizefighters!

Knights of Pythias Social.

A large number of the best society people of which Reno can boast enjoyed themselves at a social given by the Knights of Pythias last evening. The place of entertainment was Fraternity hall in the new investment building.

The members of the Reno lodge have that happy faculty of making the guests feel perfectly at home and putting them in just the right mood to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent. Dancing was, of course, the chief amusement of the evening but the general spirit of satisfaction that prevailed added to this delightful pastime an increment evident to all present, whether they did or did not participate in the merry waltz.

The Knights, like those of old, are not satisfied with an entertainment consisting solely of the rhythmic dance, however pleasing it may be to the participants, consequently the supper was up to its usual high standard of excellence. The abundance of dainties upon the dining hall tables almost rivaled in attraction the merry assemblage in the bill room. The Knights have long worn the laurels due to champion entertainers and it seems that they intend to continue doing so.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

The State of Nevada sends to C. H. Gardner, David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, Greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by A. J. Foster as plainiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, exclusive of days of service, if served and county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said 10 or 20 days, or judgment by default may be taken against you as to the prayer of said complaint. This action is brought to compel you as defendant to foreclose a mortgage made by C. H. Gardner on the following mentioned and described real property, to-wit: South half of the west one hundred feet of lot six in block "U" and lot 5 in block "U", in the town of Reno, Washoe County, State of Nevada, five acres by mistake in the most westerly lot five in block "U" which mortgage was recorded and appeared of record including the mistake that shows said lot 5 to be a part of block "U" and not a part of block "U" as in fact it is, also to procure an order of court directing a sale of the above mentioned property for the purpose of procuring money to pay a promissory note to the sum of $1893 and 31-100 dollars, including interest accrued and unpaid, said note was made by the defendant Gardner on the 4th day of October, 1894, and by its terms provides for interest on the money thereby represented at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually. That said note and the interest thereon accrued and remaining unpaid is said sum of $1893 and 31-100; also should there be insufficient to pay said indebtedness a further sum is sought for any unpaid remainder after payment of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale. It is alleged in the complaint that there is a mistake in the description of the property mortgaged and the mistake is sought to be corrected by order and decree of court, and thereafter that an order be made and decree entered foreclosing said mortgage and directing a sale of the property mortgaged, and after sale made that the cost and charges of foreclosure and sale including attorney's fee of $300 provided for be paid from the proceeds arising from a sale made of the mortgaged property, also that the defendants David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, as parties defendant and that they and each of them be required to answer the complaint, showing any right they or either of them may claim in the mortgage or property. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno in said county, and to which you are especially referred, and you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, at Reno, this 1st day of February, A. D. 1899.

STEWART WINS.

Another Hog-wood Added to His Wreath of Meanness.

Judge Mack decided in the District Court at Carson that the Nevada State Band was a nality in law, it being neither an artificial nor a natural person; consequently Senator Stewart was not legally bound to pay the sum of forty dollars, which he had promised for the services of the horn-tooters at one of his meetings before the election. Two juries had unanimously given verdicts for the plaintiff for the amount claimed, but Stewart's attorneys appealed the case to the District Court and won it on a technicality which the most miserable pettifogger in the country would scorn to resort to. And this is the man whom the Legislature— but, thank God, not the people—elected United States Senator! A man who would resort to such a contemptible subterfuge to avoid the payment of an honest debt would plead the statutes of limitation on a washer-woman's bill, or pilfer the coppers off a dead darkey's eyes. He is unworthy the recognition even of the sealwags he bribed to vote for him, who next to himself are probably the lowest specimens of humanity that ever afflicted the world with their presence.

Tim O'Grady Dead.

Tim O'Grady, for years employed as hostler at Hymers' livery stable, died yesterday morning of pneumonia at the county hospital. Tim was a genial good-hearted man, full of good nature and fun, and with no worse enemy in the world than himself. Our contemporary last evening, in relating the history of the deceased, made a number of mistakes which the JOURNAL, in justice to the memory of the dead man, is pleased to rectify. Tim was married at Virginia City some time in the early sixties. His wife died in giving birth to a boy child, which the father placed in the care of the Sisters until he was four years old. He then sent him to his grandmother in Boston, where he was raised and where he is now living and engaged in business. There was occasional correspondence between the father and son—mostly on the part of the latter, as Tim, like many old Pacific coasters, was proud and being in reduced circumstances did not want his son to know of his condition.

The funeral will take place from Sanders' undertaking rooms to-day at 2 o'clock.

Not Our Fault.

That highly esteemed exchange, the NEVADA STATE JOURNAL, does not reach the Chronicle oftener than tri-weekly.

—Va. Chronicle.

The fault does not rest in this office. Our mailing clerk, who is a Sunday school teacher and Bryan Democrat, swears by the great horn spoon that the JOURNAL is mailed every morning to the Chronicle as to our other exchanges.

THE WATER AND LIGHT QUESTION.

The Agreement Between the Water Company and City Council Does not Stick.

The agreement between the Reno Water and Light Company and the City Council, in relation to a bill concerning the purchase of the company's water and electric light plants, has been cancelled. The Water Company will send in a bill substantially the same as the old one, providing for the appraising of their property under the condemnatory system; the question to be submitted to the people at a special election. The City Council will present a bill providing for the payment of the sum agreed upon at the conference meeting, viz., $125,000 and $75,000 respectively for the company's water and light plants and also appropriations of $15,000 and $50,000 additional to the purchase price, to make the necessary improvements in case the people vote for the purchase of the old works. The Council will also present another bill providing for the question of municipal disincorporation to be submitted to the people at the next general election. This would be the fair thing for the city was incorporated by a vote of the people, and to them should certainly belong the right to decide the question of undoing their own work, and not to the legislature.

The City Council bill first mentioned provides for the amount appropriated to be raised by the issuance of city bonds.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who is not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases, Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on S. J. Hodgkinson Druggist, and get a trial bottle. Regular size 50 cent and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Justice Court.

Melvin Goodwin was arrested for robbing Kate St. Clair of fourteen dollars. Goodwin threw the woman down, checked her and took the money by force. He will be tried before the District Court.

NEW TO-DAY.
